

THE STATUS OF SENATE

Members Whose Terms Expire January 1st Next.

SOME WHO WILL RUN AGAIN

Others Contemplate Retiring from Public Life—Those Who Will Be Opposed for Nomination. Some Uncertain.

The terms of nineteen members of the State Senate will expire on January 1st next, and there is also a vacancy in the thirty-seventh district, due to the death of Dr. George W. Le Cato, all of which must be filled at the November election. The terms of all the Senators from the even number districts will expire with the present year, and their successors are to be chosen for four years. Here is the list of the Senators who may or may not be returned after this session:

R. P. Bruce, district of Wist, Lee and Scott.

Edward Lytle, district of Roanoke city, Montgomery, Craig and Roanoke counties.

E. J. Harvey, district of Patrick, Carroll and Grayson.

George B. Keesele, district of Rockingham.

S. L. Lupton, district of Frederick and Shenandoah.

Thomas D. Gold, district of Clarke and Warren.

S. R. Donohoe, district of Fairfax, Alexandria and Prince William counties and city of Alexandria.

F. V. Cogbill, district of Powhatan, Gloucester and Chesterfield.

Frank C. Moon, district of Buckingham, Fluvanna and Appomattox.

Don P. Halsey, district of Lynchburg and Campbell.

Graham Clayton, district of Bedford, Joseph Whitehead, district of Pittsylvania and Danville.

J. A. Dinwiddie, district of Floyd and Franklin.

William Hodges Mann, district of Nottingham, Lunenburg and Brunswick.

A. D. Watkins, district of Prince Edward, Amelia and Cumberland.

William Shands, district of Southampton, Isle of Wight and Nansemond.

Henry T. Wickham, district of Hanover and Caroline.

C. Harding Walker, district of Northumberland, Westmoreland, King George and Richmond and Lancaster.

D. Gardner Tyler, district of Charles City, James City, Elizabeth City, York, Warwick, New Kent, King William, Williamsburg and Newport News.

Vacancy from the district of Accomac and Northampton, Thirty-seventh District.

WILL BE CANDIDATES.

Senators Lytle, Donohoe, Lupton, Mann, Shands, Dinwiddie, Wickham, Tyler, Gold, and Whitehead will, it is understood, be candidates for re-election, though there is some doubt in the cases of Messrs. Tyler, Gold and Whitehead.

It is uncertain that Messrs. Bruce and Clayton will be candidates, but it is thought Senator Clayton will be returned.

Messrs. Keesele, Walker, Watkins, Harvey, Moon, Cogbill and Halsey will also be candidates for re-election. Mr. Moon has large business interests to which he wishes to devote himself. Mr. Keesele also has important business interests, but great pressure has been brought to bear, it is thought he may be induced to serve another term. Mr. Walker's professional business will occupy his entire time.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

Dr. W. R. Glenn's Address on Life of Self-Sacrificing Service Open to the Teacher.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FARMVILLE, VA., April 25.—The Normal School has been favored by an unusual number of distinguished visitors recently. Dr. John Eger, the guest of the Rev. S. H. Thompson, was present at the opening exercises on the 17th of April, and talked to the students about the glories of scenery and art in that wonderful land of Italy, where Dr. Eger has labored successfully for many years as a missionary of the Baptist Church.

Dr. W. R. Glenn, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Georgia, and acting agent of the Peabody Fund since Dr. Curry's death, spent Monday and Tuesday looking well into the wish of our school. On Tuesday morning he addressed the students, inspiring them to the beautiful life of self-sacrificing service open to the true teacher. Dr. Glenn was entertained by President Jarman.

Mrs. Littleton Collier with her little son, visited her sister, Miss Estelle Smith, from Monday until Wednesday. Mrs. Collier is the wife of an English missionary to Korea. By invitation she kindly talked to the girls at prayer Tuesday evening, telling them of curious and interesting Korean customs and the degraded, miserable lives of the women of the hermit nation.

Hon. George L. Murrell, superintendent and treasurer of the commission from Virginia to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and member of the Legislature from Bedford county, visited the school Wednesday. We earnestly hope that his opportunity to discover our urgent needs will cause him to use his well-known ability in behalf of the call for our increased annuity and special appropriation.

Messrs. Justice Pickrell, Ruth Schmeiz, Nora White, Lucile Kent, Louise Parramann and Fannie Marston, championed by Mrs. Fidd, saw the championship baseball game between the teams of Richmond College and Hampden-Sydney Wednesday afternoon, at Hampden-Sydney.

Miss Linda McClung, of Rockbridge county, has returned to school to complete the work necessary for her diploma of which she was deprived in January by serious illness.

Miss Whitlow, also of Rockbridge, is observing the work in the Training School.

Miss Frankie McKinney, championed by her mother, Mrs. P. W. McKinney, spent last week in Richmond.

Miss Florence Frank, a graduate of '95, who is the guest of Mrs. George Richardson, has visited the school often during the week.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the next Senate. The Constitutional Convention, the passage of the Mann bill, the Jamestown Exposition bill and other legislation and changed political condition may all figure in the nominations and the election in some districts.

There are some who predict that the Republicans will offer more formidable opposition in the southwest and in the Valley than heretofore.

All the senators from the odd number districts will hold over.

HOLD-OVER SENATORS.

The senators from the odd-number districts will hold over until the election of 1905. These are Messrs. Anderson and Bryant, of Richmond and Henrico; Byars, Harman (Rep.), St. Clair, Ravencomb (Rep.), Ople, Ford, Wallace, Shackelford, Chapman, Massie, Burksdale, Garrett, Hutcheson, Hobbs, McIlwaine, Sale, Cromwell and Sears. In the thirty-seventh district there is a vacancy, due to the death of Dr. George W. LeCato, one of the veteran members of the Senate. These senators are all to serve two years longer.

In 1905, unless the Constitution shall be amended, the successors to the senators just named are to be chosen for two-year terms and in 1907 the entire membership of the Senate is to be elected for four-year terms.

and he cannot afford to sacrifice the time required by senatorial service.

Mr. Dinwiddie, a Republican member, will stand for re-election, but will probably be opposed by ex-Senator W. H. Hale, formerly an independent, now a Democrat.

Mr. Gold will probably have opposition both for the nomination and in the general election. It is said that Hon. R. S. Parks, of Page, ex-member of the House, will be a candidate for the Senate.

Mr. Tyler may have opposition also, the boundaries of his district having been changed. He will probably be re-nominated.

Judge Wm. Henry Mann, of Nottingham, author of the Mann bill, and one of the best-known members of the Senate, will, after this, be in the same district with Judge A. D. Watkins, of Prince Edward. Judge Watkins is a Commonwealth's attorney and will not stand for the Senate.

Mr. Lupton may have opposition for the nomination, but will probably be re-nominated.

Senator Donohoe's re-nomination is practically assured. Senator Lytle also will, it is said, be re-nominated.

MR. WICKHAM WILL WIN.

Mr. Wickham, of Hanover, the veteran of the Senate, the experienced chairman of the Finance Committee and perhaps the most influential member of the upper house, will be returned without opposition. Of this there is practically no doubt.

These senators who have determined to retire are among the most experienced and influential members of the Senate.

Mr. Halsey will retire, and already there are many candidates for the seat. Among them are Delegate J. C. Featherston, Mr. A. F. Thomas, Judge Frank Nelson, Mr. William O'Brien, Mr. Eugene Ould and others.

The present prospect is that there will be many new faces in the